What do you think he would do?

Honesty

He rang the police, taxi firms and everybody he knew
The violin was in Mohammed Khalil's taxi and he hadn't realised. He left it in the taxi over-night.

When Mohammed got to the airport his friends told him about the missing violin.

When he looked in the back of his taxi there it was!

Honesty

Mohammed handed the violin back to Phillipe Quint who was delighted

Phillipe gave Mohammed all the money he had on him and gave all the taxi drivers a concert

The mayor of New Jersey heard what had happened and gave a speech about Mohammed's honesty and gave him a special medal from the city.

What is the moral of the story?

The moral of the story is to tell the truth and be honest.

In small amounts these are fine but we need Self-Control to prevent us having too much of them. But this can be very hard!

What would have happened if Phillipe hadn't told people the violin was lost?

What would have happened if Mohammed had kept the violin?

What does

being honest

look like in this story?

We never keep something we have found because we think of how the person who has lost it would feel.

If we make a mistake, or lose something precious we tell someone so they can help us.

What is the opposite of honesty?

H<sup>o</sup>neSty

Dishonesty

Dishonesty

Have you ever told a lie?

Why did you tell your lie?

Dishonesty

To stop us from being embarrassed

To make ourselves
look better

To get attention

To stop us
from getting into trouble
